Lepp Farms

Lepp Farm is a fruit farm in Niagara on the Lake that grows plums, peaches, nectarines and pears. Lepp's fruits are so well grown that they are used by local wineries and brew houses to make unique brews. Some of which include a Peach Cider from Ravine Winery, an Icewine Infused Eisbock, a Sparkling Niagara Verjus Sour and an Oak-Aged Peach Hefeweizen by Niagara Oast House Brewers. And because of our attentive packing process, our fruit can be found all over Canada, from Coast to Coast!

We use forklift rentals from Lift Line at our packinghouse where we pack our various fruit. If we have issues with the machines, the service techs are here to fix them quickly.

Self Dumping Hoppers

A self-dumping hopper is an essential forklift attachment for any commercial and industrial workspace dealing with large and heavy (waste) materials. The dump hopper is used in a variety of industries such as construction, warehousing and lumber processing to store and relocate loads with a fork truck.

Excellent for handling heavy, bulky scrap, in-plant housekeeping, in-process materials, sorting and storing, wood, metal chips, recyclables, and sludge.

Tim the Mechanic Says, "Lift tables enhance productivity!"

A lift table is a platform capable of holding materials and raising, lowering, and adjusting them to any height to meet the needs of an application and the user's requirements. Lift tables are supported by a strong, rigid, and stable base frame placed flat on the floor, in a pit, or equipped with casters or wheels. The majority of lift tables have hydraulically driven scissor legs that provide a straight and steady vertical motion for smooth operation and positioning. Lift tables are an easily accessible work surface that can be adjusted to meet the needs of various industrial applications such as sorting parts, doing repairs, holding tools, or providing a flexible workspace in a limited or enclosed area. As an ergonomically designed tool, lift tables provide a low stress, comfortable, and convenient workspace.

Lifting is a common part of industrial operations and requires heavy duty tools. Using workers to perform repetitive lifting can result in fatigue, injury, slowed productivity, inefficiency, and accidents. Medical science has proven that continuous up and down motion, when done improperly, can lead to damage to arm, leg, and back muscles. Lift tables were designed to be an ergonomic solution to those issues. Having a product positioned at exactly the right level and height solves a wide array of physical and mental problems. Using a lift table increases worker productivity and their attitude toward their work.

If you think a lift table would work in your environment, give us a call and one of our Sales Reps will meet with you to discuss your needs.
